The Stories Jesus Told: God turned darkness into light

By Lisa Debney

Actions: 'Jazz hands' on 'light'

Back in the beginning things were dark and still;
The universe was empty, just a space to fill.
Looking into darkness God said, 'Make it bright,'
And God turned darkness into light.

Looking down from heaven God saw things go wrong:
People hurting people, it went on too long.
So he sent his Son to help us on a starry night,
And God turned darkness into light.

Jesus walked among us; he was God's own Son.
They nailed him to a cross, had it all gone wrong?
But God's power is stronger than the darkest night,
And God turned darkness into light.

Three days later, an amazing sight:
An empty tomb all shining bright.
Jesus is alive, death lost the fight!
And God turned darkness into light.

In our world thing still go wrong,
Places where the darkness seems too strong.
But there's power in us to put things right,
And we can turn darkness into light.
Together we'll turn darkness into light.
With God's help we'll turn darkness into light.
